Bracken Co. Health Dept. and HMM host annual Health Fair

The annual Health Fair was held this past Saturday, August 18th at the Bracken County Extension Office outside of Brooksville. The Bracken County Health Department again joined forces with Harrison Memorial Hospital to provide free health tests, screenings, and information. Free tests performed this year were: blood tests, cholesterol and triglyceride, (fasting) blood sugar, and PSA for men. Participants also had their blood pressure, height and weight checked. Screenings included colorectal, body fat analysis, pulse oximetry/ breathing capacity, facial sun damage, stroke risk, bone density, vision and hearing, and a diabetes risk assessment. A massage therapist provided a free sample massage for those interested and nutritionist, Jara Jo Bauer, was also on hand to answer questions and provide free information.

Area children and teachers back in the swing of school routines

As of last Thursday, August 16th, all three school districts are now in session. Augusta Independent students were the first to return as the doors opened officially on Wednesday, August 8th. The Bracken County School District followed suite the next day, Thursday, August 9th. As is the recent tradition with Saint Augustine School, they held their opening day on Thursday, August 16th after the fun filled weekend of their annual Festival.

With all three school districts now in session, motorists are reminded to allow extra time in their morning commute as buses will be stopping frequently to pick up children. The City of Brooksville is again placing stop signs at the entrance to Taylor Elementary and the Bracken County Middle School to help ease the congestion of morning school traffic, creating a four way stop between the Brooksville Christian Church and Snappy Tomato Pizza. Not only does traffic increase in the mornings and afternoons with schools now in session, traffic patterns will increase in the evenings as well as sports practices and games begin. So remember to always obey all traffic laws and posted limits for the safety of children and their families.

Information sought in weekend road rage incident

On Saturday, August 18, the Kentucky State Police and the Bracken County Sheriff's Department were alerted to an incident of road rage that began in Mt. Olivet and ended in Brooksville. According to reports, the operator of a Chevy Impala intentionally bumped a Geo Prism on KY 875 in the area of the Vermillion Road. An argument occurred when the two vehicles stopped over money allegedly owed the driver of the Impala by the passenger of the Geo Prism. After the altercation, the driver of the Geo proceeded toward Brooksville, followed by the Impala. Somewhere between Germantown and Brooksville on KY 10, the Impala moved into the oncoming lane of traffic and drove side by side with the Geo for approximately 1 mile. Law enforcement said these wanton actions by the driver of the Impala, created a substantial danger of death or serious physical injury to another person on the highway.

The Impala was located later in day after a report of an intoxicated driver leaving Brooksville going south on KY 19 to Powersville was issued. The officer located the vehicle just south of Powersville where it had pulled off the roadway into a driveway. At that time, both occupants of the Impala were intoxicated and arrested for public intoxication. The driver of the Impala was charged by the Kentucky State Police with wanton endangerment, 1st degree, for the incident.

Anyone who may have witnessed any part of the incident from Mt. Olivet to Brooksville that occurred around 2:15 – 3:15 p.m., or anyone who was nearly hit by the driver of the Impala are asked to contact the Bracken County Sheriff's Office at 606-735-3233 or the Kentucky State Police Dispatch at 1-859-428-1212

What Used to Be Santa Fe

After entering Santa Fe from the north and descending the slope to the North Fork bottom the route out merchandise was delivered, the first building to view was the old Canada cording factory and then the school where the barefoot children learned their reading, writing and arithmetic.

Next to see was the tobacco warehouse where many of our youth were employed and where energetic men brought and sold their prized tobacco.

Across from the warehouse the village blacksmith worked from dawn until dusk repairing farming needs.

Two hundred yards to the east was the race horse tack where much excitement went on at the races on Saturday afternoon,

Down the picturesque North Fork a modern shoe shop was in motion fixing shoes for the surrounding neighbors and slaves. Just below the shoe shop was a modern store with a wine cellar in the basement.

Across the Fork was the cemetery and the Hardshell Baptist church which was mostly pastured from Virginia. These God-loving ministers preached predestination. They didn't condemn drinking but they were bitter against drunkenness and evildoers.

On down the river was the old burr watermill which made marijuana, guilty, jail 45 days, concurrent, c.d. 2 years; (4) drug paraphernalia, buy/possession, guilty, jail 60 days, concurrent, c.d. 2 years.

the flour that was used to make the cake that took first prize at the first fair that was held at Germantown, Kentucky—well over a century ago.

Just above the old mill was another general store and post office with horse shoe pitching galore. Below this store and post office was a modern saloon with dancing pavilion, across the highway, all decorated with Jack O'Lantern lights. Back of the saloon was a baseball park where many fine games and picnics were enjoyed. Out from the ball park stood an old log barn that attracted poker players. Crap shooters were entertained in the cooper shop at the warehouse.

The slaves boasted of their homes around Santa Fe. Can you blame them? All have vanished.

P.S. I forgot to tell you about the barber shop that opened in April in the old buggy shop. 15 cents for hair cuts, 10 cents for a shave if the handle didn't break.

In preparation for harvest and threshing and to get ready for the crowd, they would just throw two bushels of select corn on the mule and go over to West Creek to the still house.

SOCIAL SECURITY AND WOMEN
by Amy Pribble
Social Security District Manager in Maysville, KY
August 26 is known as Women's Equality Day. On that date in 1920, the 19th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution was signed, giving women the right to vote.

Social Security treats men and women equally. Men and women with identical earnings histories are treated exactly the same. However, there are things women in particular should know about Social Security. Although treated equally by Social Security, there are trends and differences in lifestyle that can affect benefits.

For example, women tend to care for many people: spouses, children, and parents. Taking time away from the workplace to care for a newborn child or aging parent can have an impact on your future Social Security benefits.

Also, despite significant strides through the years, women are more likely to earn less over a lifetime than men. Women are less often covered by private retirement plans, and they are more dependent on Social Security in their retirement years.

And, women tend to live about five years longer than men, which means more years depending on Social Security and other retirement income or savings.

If a woman is married to a man who earns significantly more than she does, it is likely she will qualify for a larger benefit amount on his record than on her own.

Want to learn more? Visit our Women's page at www.socialsecurity.gov/women. Follow the link on that page to our publication, What Every Woman Should Know. You can read it online, print a copy, or listen to it on audio. We provide alternate media as well to reach as many women as possible and to provide the information the way you'd like to receive it.

Two Minutes WITH THE BIBLE

by Cornelius R. Stam, Founder
Berean Bible Society
PO Box 756 Germantown, WI 53022

THE PEACE OF GOD by Pastor Cornelius R. Stam

"Peace with God" is one thing; "the peace of God" is another. To enjoy the latter, we must first experience the former, for the peace of God, ruling in our hearts, is the result of "peace with God, through our Lord Jesus Christ."

St. Paul declared by divine inspiration that "[Christ] was delivered for our offences and was raised again for our justification" and that "therefore, being justified by faith," we, who once were at enmity with God, may enjoy "peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ" (Rom. 4:25; 5:1). The result of "peace with God" is "the peace of God," the peace that He gives to His own amid all the troubles of life. This is why the Apostle wrote to the Roman Christians:

"Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing" (Rom. 15:13).

While only those who are at peace with God can — and should know "the peace of God," it does not follow, however, that all those who are at peace with God necessarily enjoy "the peace of God." Believers can enjoy "the peace of God" only as they practice Phil. 4:6:

"BE CAREFUL [ANXIOUS] FOR NOTHING; BUT IN EVERYTHING, BY PRAYER AND SUPPLICATION, WITH THANKSGIVING, LET YOUR REQUESTS BE MADE KNOWN UNTO GOD."

As we follow these instructions the promise which follows will certainly be fulfilled.

"THE PEACE OF GOD, WHICH PASSETH ALL UNDERSTANDING, SHALL KEEP YOUR HEARTS AND MINDS THROUGH CHRIST JESUS" (Ver. 7).

As believers in Christ "we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to His purpose" (Rom. 8:28). Therefore we should not be constantly overwhelmed and defeated by the adversities of life, but should heed the exhortation; "Let the peace of God rule in your hearts" (Col. 3:15).

"NOW THE LORD OF PEACE HIMSELF GIVE YOU PEACE ALWAYS BY ALL MEANS" (II Thes. 3:16).

MR. WARD

John I. Ward, Jr., 91, passed away on Sunday, August 19, 2012 at his residence in the Cottingham Retirement Community, Colerain Township, OH. Born January 1, 1921, he was a Veteran of the United States Army.

Learn about the Power of Friendships at PCC this Sunday

Do we truly understand the power of our choices? Even those small choices we make on a daily basis are leading us down a path of life. Sometimes our biggest regrets could have been avoided if better decisions would have been made. How do we avoid regrets and bad choices that lead to damaged relationships and broken lives? By being VERY CAREFUL how we live. (Eph. 5:15) Join us at Powersville Christian Church this Sunday as we look at the power of friendships. The thing that makes friendships great, are also the things that can lead to dangerous territory. Hope to see you then! <http://www.powersvillechristianchurch.com/>.

BERLIN BAPTIST

by Karen Cooper

We invite all to come and worship with our family of believers. Sunday services begin with Sunday School at 10 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m. and Sunday night services are held at 7 p.m., message by Brother Dan Black.

This past Sunday Brother Dan's message was taken from Acts 3:1-18 with an emphasis on verse 6 Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk. Peter claimed the authority to heal not in his name, but in the name of Jesus Christ. We are all crippled in some manner and in need of repair that can only come from the power of God.

NEW LIFE FELLOWSHIP

by Beverly Whittaker

There were alot of people travelling this weekend. Angela Tucker went to Tennessee to visit her parents. Sheryl Hicks did a wonderful job of leading our worship service this morning. Sheryl Hicks sang the special "There Will Come A Day". Pastor Doug's message was about the "giants" in our lives which are the enemies and the adversaries to the promises and provisions of God.

It was good to see the Pope family at our Wednesday night prayer service last week. They live in Houston, Texas and were visting for a few days.

Upcoming events: Sept. 29 - Ladies Shopping Day in Dayton, OH. at 8:00 a.m.; Oct. 6 - Youth bagging groceries at County Market from 11-5.

PRESBYTERIAN POTPOURRI

by Les Grooms, pastor Augusta Presbyterian

We continued studying the book of Acts in our adult Sunday School.

We had fifty one in attendance. Earl Bush was the worship leader. Barbara Nickoson was song leader. Jill White did the power point. Shelby England had children's church.

John Parker and Brenda Cropper were present to give us a very generous gift from the estate of Bertha Walton. The church was very important to Bertha and she remembered us in her will.

This past week was a very busy time for us in the church. We said goodbye to Betty White.

Bob Kennard was taken to the hospital early Sunday morning. Vidie Grace went with him and was not present for worship. Larry England will continue with his radiation treatment on Monday.

My sermon this week was about wasting time. According to the scriptures, our days are numbered and we need to make the most out of the time that we have. First of all we should worship God and put Jesus first in our lives. Next we should try to spend more time with our families.

TRASH TALK

by: Mr. Recycle Bin & Ms. Pick-Up Litterbug

606-735-9960

Howdy Folks! What a beautiful Monday morning we have been blessed with! The air is cool, the birds are singing, the sun is shining and we are able to enjoy the experience! We sincerely hope that this Monday and this week will bring many blessings and much happiness to each of you!

Last Monday brought extra work as the trailer located at the Augusta Ball Park was misused. Someone had cleaned their closets and all the clothing was tossed into the trailer. Since these items were not in bags, we had to get them out of the trailer and by the time the last item was pulled from the trailer, we had filled six large bags of clothing! It was most disheartening to have to toss these items but we had no choice. Either the same person, or someone using the trailer later, tossed some food items and other garbage on top of the clothes, creating more difficulties! There are several businesses that will accept good used clothing including Goodwill and Another Man's Treasure in Maysville. Bracken County also has the Hope Center in Augusta, The Quarter Corner in Brooksville and the new Thrift Store located in the old Tru-Value Store in the center of Brooksville. Not only do these stores accept clothing, but just about any usable item from dishes to tools to toys and everything in between. Lots of times we may get tired of some items we have around the house (and we are NOT talking about the kids or the spouse here!). Once cleaned these items can be donated to one of the above mentioned locations and become a prized possession in another's home!

Reusing items only makes good, common sense! As kids, our family passed down clothing, furniture, household items, etc. because no one wanted to waste anything and it also made good economical sense! Grandma Jones saved sugar sacks which made sturdy carrying bags for the fresh eggs she would give us. Today, we have yard sales that allow folks to make a few extra dollars to get rid of their unwanted items. Even the Olympics organizers are reusing or recycling the plastic panels that surrounded the stadium in London! According to an article in Resource Recycling, the official chemistry company of the Olympics, the Dow Chemical Company, has partnered with Axion Recycling and an anti-poverty charity known as Article 25. The panels that were used to enclose the stadium will be repurposed and recycled to build a shaded community area at Article 25's new facility in Rio de Janeiro, the city that will host the 2016 games. The at-risk youths who will benefit from this project can experience first-hand the benefits of reusing the Olympic panels and perhaps be inspired to take full advantage of the opportunity to become better individuals!

Our Summer Road Clean is winding down and will be completed by the end of this week. Litter Patrol workers, especially those who have had the experience of picking up trash, tell us that there seems to be less trash, but they all agree that any trash is unnecessary! Some trash still is the result of items being blown from the beds of pickup trucks and we urge truck owners to secure items along the road. Even though this can be termed "oops" litter, it is non-the-less, litter and has to be picked up! As we enjoy these summer days, let's re-commit to becoming better stewards of Mother Earth by RECYCLING, REUSING and REDUCING to keep God's earth clean, green and beautiful! Be seein' you - Bin & Bug.

Robertson Co. Public Library holds summer Reading Program

The 2012 Summer Reading Program at the Robertson County Public Library was a success once again this year. Sixty readers of all ages participated in the program. The sessions lasted four weeks throughout the month of July. The theme for the younger readers was "Dream Big, Read" and "Own the Night" was the theme for the older readers. The sessions were based on achieving your dreams; dreams and their meanings; nocturnal animals, zombies, ghosts, monsters and things that "go bump in the night". The children enjoyed crafts, games and stories and more. One of the sessions featured firefighter James Linville. The children got to ask questions and sit in a fire truck which was very exciting for the children. Also, during one of the older group's sessions, Paul Tierney of Blue Licks State Resort Park told ghost stories. This was a very popular event for the summer readers. This was the first year for an adult summer reading program. The theme for this new program was "Between the Covers". These sessions were for adults ages 18 and up and included cooking, crafts, decorating and the famous love stories throughout history.

On July 27th, the library held a closing program for all of the summer reading participants which included food and an array of games, such as glow in the dark bowling, Pictionary and animal bingo. Overall, our summer reading program was a great success and the library looks forward to another good turnout in 2013.

Bracken Co. receives grant to preserve local records

Bracken County Clerk Rae Jean Poe has received a grant totaling $11,520 from the Kentucky Department for Libraries and Archives (KDLA) to preserve and manage local government records. KDLA is an agency of the Education and Workforce Development Cabinet.

Twenty-six grants have been awarded for a total of $345,756 from fiscal year 2013 Local Records Grant Program funds. During the program's 27-year history, a total of more than $19 million has been distributed across Kentucky and included grants to all 120 counties.

The grant funds will be used to index and create images of permanent records.

"Bracken County citizens will benefit from this grant tremendously," said Poe. "By receiving this grant we will be able to image and index many past permanent records. Now citizens and title searchers will be able to directly print a record off the computer with a few simple clicks verses going to a book and physically pulling it, taking it apart, and then copying the document needed."

KDLA provides equitable access to quality library and information resources and services, as well as helps public agencies ensure that legislatively mandated documentation of government programs is created, efficiently maintained, and made accessible. For more information on KDLA resources, programs and services visit www.kdla.ky.gov or call 502-564-8300 ext. 315.

Augusta Looks to Continue Building Cross Country Program

After getting their feet wet last year, the cross country program at Augusta Independent is looking to become even more competitive this season. The school re-established the team last fall after a long absence, and it achieved modest success. In a limited number of races, it had runners place in the top 30 in three different meets, had 2 members selected to the All-Conference Team, and consistently had runners improving their individual times.

"Last year, our biggest goals were to get some experience and improve individuals' times from one meet to the next," Coach Tim Litteral stated. "We had a large group of seniors who came out last year to help us get the program started, so we lost five or six runners after just one year."

This year, the program looks to become even more competitive. "While we lost those seniors, our top two runners are returning," Litteral said. Senior Tanner Kelsch achieved Augusta's fastest time last season while freshman Camryn Snapp followed closely behind with the team's second quickest time. "Tanner is proving to be a good team leader, which I think is important that we have a senior who can step into that role. Camryn is just a hard worker who is going to give you everything he has. He's certainly one of our big leaders on the course just by his performance and work ethic." Augusta participated in a practice meet at Scott HS on August 16 with Snapp and Kelsch once again leading the way for the Panthers. Snapp finished 14th out of 113 runners, with a time of 20:39. Kelsch finished 33rd with a time of 22:50.

"Camryn and Tanner are already ahead of where they were this time last year, so that's promising. We also have some new members to the team this year. Some of them have surprised me. I look for them to improve and make an impact throughout the season. By making an impact, I don't necessarily mean winning a race or finishing in the top ten. While a couple do have that potential, we have a couple who are simply dedicated runners who work hard and have a positive attitude, and that can go a long way," Litteral said. In an effort to build the program, a middle school team was also started this season. Most of the middle school meets are in conjunction with the high school meets. "By starting these students in middle school, it can only help build our high school program and make us more successful in the future, while giving students the opportunity to exercise and live a healthier life. We want to perform well and have individuals place, but that's not our sole goal. We have some runners who aren't out to win a race, but are simply running to get into better shape, and we encourage those students to join the program as well."

Meet "Kentucky Afield" TV host Tim Farmer Friday night at the KY State Fair

Meet "Kentucky Afield" television host Tim Farmer at the Kentucky State Fair in Louisville from 6 to 7 p.m. (Eastern time) Friday, Aug. 24.

"I'm usually in the woods or on the water at this time of year, but I like to come inside every now and then to meet even more folks," Farmer said. "Kentuckians always have the most wonderful stories to tell, and that's why I'm looking forward to meeting everyone who visits the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources booth."

The Kentucky Fish and Wildlife area is located in the south wing of the Kentucky Exposition Center. Look for a large circular Kentucky Fish and Wildlife banner hanging from the ceiling.

Visitors can also buy their hunting and fishing licenses or have their questions about the outdoors answered by friendly employees at the Kentucky Fish and Wildlife booth.

"Kentucky Afield" is an Emmy Award-winning production of the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. The show airs statewide on Kentucky Educational Television at 8:30 p.m. (Eastern time)/7:30 p.m. (Central time) Saturdays and again at 4:30 p.m. (Eastern time)/3:30 p.m. (Central time) Sundays. Show segments also are viewable online on YouTube.

More KY counties designated as Drought Disaster Areas

On Mon., August 20th, Governor Steve Beshear announced more Kentucky counties have been classified as drought disaster areas by U.S. Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack.

In a letter to the Governor, Sec. Vilsack declared an additional 68 Kentucky counties as primary disaster areas due to losses caused by drought that occurred April 1, 2012 and continuing. Local counties included in this disaster designation were:

Bracken, Fleming, Lewis, Mason, Pendleton, and Robertson.

Also as a result of this designation, 22 contiguous counties are eligible for assistance.

After a similar declaration last month and earlier this month, Kentucky now has 116* counties as either primary or contiguous disaster areas due to drought.

"We are pleased that Sec. Vilsack has issued this disaster designation for the benefit of additional farm families in Kentucky. While some areas have seen rain in recent weeks, it did not arrive in time to mitigate agricultural losses in these counties," said Gov. Beshear. "The widespread impact this drought has had on the Commonwealth can be seen in that 97 percent of the state is covered by a disaster designation. I appreciate Sec. Vilsack's continued support of our farm families."

To date, USDA has designated 1,792 counties as disaster areas—1,670 due to drought.

Hinton Mills Livestock Handling Facility almost completed

Hinton Mills and Fleming County Schools are proud to announce that they have partnered to construct an animal science complex to be named “Hinton Mills Livestock Handling Facility.” The structure will provide students space for agriculture-related activities and better enable educational instruction in the field of animal science. It will provide the opportunity for the safe, hands-on involvement with various livestock for FFA students in the ten county Licking River Region, including Bracken County. The 60’ x 62’ metal and guard rail sided structure will be located on the 180 acre FFA School Farm on Route 11 in the Fleming County Industrial Park II. The Hinton Mills Livestock Handling Facility will be funded in its entirety by Hinton Mills and is anticipated to be completed early-September of 2012.

Project leader and ag science instructor Bobby Pease stated, “FFA has a long tradition of excellence. As we look to the future we hope to build on this legacy by expanding the opportunities given to our students. The new Hinton Mills Livestock Handling Facility will cater to our intense, hands-on teaching style. The facility will offer a safe, comfortable, and efficient way to work livestock and help students make connections between Math and Science and their application in the real world. We are proud to partner on this project with community leaders like Hinton Mills as we build the leaders of tomorrow.”

When complete, the Hinton Mills Livestock Handling Facility will enable safer and more efficient handling of livestock, accommodate hay storage, agricultural implement storage, and feeding facilities. In addition to a Tru-Test livestock scale system and concrete feed platform, the facility will also house a Priefert solid sweep, adjustable alley and squeeze chute in order for students to safely handle livestock and optimize animal welfare while teaching students about animal husbandry.

Hinton Mills Vice-President, Adam Hinton, had the following statement, “All the folks at Hinton Mills feel extremely blessed to be able to continue to promote two fields that we are passionate about, agriculture and education, with this joint endeavor with the FFA. We hope this facility will enable area youth of today and the future learn in a hands-on manner, under the safest possible conditions. My grandmother, the late Maxine Hinton, taught at Fleming County High School and was a great proponent of education. Hinton Mills is donating this educational facility in honor and appreciation of not only Maxine Hinton, but also all the folks that helped the business of our founders, Frank L. and Ellora Hinton, grow over the past 94 years, whether serving as an employee or allowing us to serve you as a patron.”

Four generations of Hinton’s have been serving area farmers since 1918 selling feed, seed, hardware, pet and lawn and garden supplies. Hinton Mills has four family-owned locations in Fleming and Mason Counties and a wide-range of products to accommodate the needs of both farm and home owners. Hinton Mills is dedicated to the agricultural community and possess a rare combination of modern agricultural technologies and services necessary for today’s agricultural community, while maintaining old-fashioned customer service.

Fall squirrel season opened August 18

Kentucky's fall squirrel season, a 193-day split season that kicks off the calendar of fall hunting, opens this weekend.

The season opened Sat., Aug. 18 and runs through Nov. 9. The season re-opens Nov. 12 and closes Feb. 28, 2013.

The daily bag limit is six squirrels.

"Hunters will find plenty of squirrels this season, but populations could be slightly down in some areas," said Ben Robinson, small game biologist for the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. "Last fall's mast crop was rated good overall, but hickory and white oak production was poor."

There's a close relationship between a year's mast production and the following year's squirrel population levels.

Since 1953, department biologists have been gauging mast production based on an annual survey of the nuts on hickory, white and red oak and beech trees. The nuts of these trees comprise the most important foods for Kentucky's forest wildlife – squirrels, white-tailed deer, wild turkeys and bear.

Biologists walk the same route every year and estimate the year's mast crop based on what they observe.

"This year's survey began August 15 and will continue for about two weeks," said Robinson. "After this information is compiled, we'll have a clearer picture of the impact of the summer drought."

Weather extremes, such as late frosts and heavy rains in spring or summer droughts, can limit the amount and quality of mast.

Drought conditions in western Kentucky are expected to affect squirrel behavior this fall in the region. "I expect squirrels to be on the move looking for food," said Robinson.

Late winter is the time when food availability becomes most critical to squirrels and can impact their body condition heading into the breeding season. Hickory nuts begin to mature in August. Acorns and beechnuts mature in September and October.

Squirrel hunters can help management efforts by taking part in the Squirrel Hunting Cooperator Survey. The voluntary program, which started in 1995, supplies information that biologists use to monitor squirrel population trends in Kentucky.

Hunters record information about their hunts as the season progresses. This information includes the county hunted, hours afield, number and species of squirrels seen and harvested, number of hunters in the party and the number of dogs used to find squirrels.

When hunters are finished hunting for the season they simply mail in their survey. Logs are available online at fw.ky.gov by clicking on the "Hunting, Trapping & Wildlife" tab, then the "Small Game" tab, followed by the "Squirrel" tab. Hunters may request a log by calling (800) 858-1549. Logs must be returned to the department no later than May 31, 2013.

Each year, after the survey information is compiled and analyzed, a report is mailed out to squirrel hunters who shared the details of their hunting activities from the previous season.

Last season, the survey detailed 1,144 squirrel hunts in 76 Kentucky counties. Hunters reported that they saw nearly five squirrels per hunt and bagged almost two squirrels per hour.

Hunting success was highest in the month of September and 68 percent of the hunts occurred in the first three months of the season.

AHS Lady Panthers participate in Matchpoint Volleyball Camp

For most people summer is a time of rest and relaxation, but for Coach Roy Machen and the Augusta Lady Panthers volleyball team, it was a time spent improving their skills. These ladies and their upbeat coach are hoping that a summer of hard work translates into a very successful volleyball season.

Part of their summer included three days of intense coaching provided to the Lady Panthers and Coach Machen by Matchpoint Volleyball Camp from Columbus, OH. The camp was held in Augusta for the Lady Panthers and designed to meet the specific needs of the volleyball team. The camp was run by Coach Sandra Borer, and she was assisted by Megan Saunders. Coach Borer has 14 years of coaching experience and was also an All - American volleyball player during her college playing days. Coach Saunders played college volleyball at Wilmington College in Ohio.

From July 16th thru July 18th, the Lady Panthers spent 5 hours a day working on fundamental volleyball skills under the direction of Coach Borer and Coach Saunders. The coaches, using a variety of drills, skill tests, and game-like situations, helped the 17 Lady Panthers attending the camp make vast improvements in the areas of ball control, passing, and serving. The team also spent a large amount of time working on offensive plays and running defenses.

The camp was a wonderful opportunity for the Augusta Lady Panthers and one that Coach Machen feels will pay tremendous dividends this season. Coach Machen feels that the improvements the team made over the summer, combined with their continued hard work and team first attitude, will lead to a very successful season.

Time to shelve Governor's Cup; Miracle at West Liberty?

The Governor's Cup, Kentucky at Louisville. Crunching a few numbers. Since 1994 the series has been a fixture for television, albeit played on whatever day and at whatever time a network chooses.

Kentucky leads the series 14-10 and it has been a model for parity. Each school has won half of the last 10 games.

From coaches Howard Schnellenberger to Charlie Strong, Rich Brooks and Joker Phillips, the passion and bragging have been kept mostly at a healthy tone and temperature and decibel level.

Two years ago the Howard Schnellenberger Award was instituted. Most outstanding player in the game went to UK's Derrick Locke in 2010, and UofL's Dexter Heyman last year.

All is well, right? I don't think so. Certainly not as season opener.

Times have changed. For Kentucky, SEC expansion means the likelihood of an added league game. For Louisville, moving to another more challenging conference is in the cards.

The Governor's Cup was a dream-come-true for Schnellenberger and "fair thing," thinking by Bill Curry. It elevated Louisville football and was a coup for director of athletics Tom Jurich. For Kentucky's up-and-mostly down football it has become a physical and psychological bruise tattooed on before going into America's black-and-bruiser meat grinder SEC.

These things, and with each school having split the last 10 games, next week's Governor's Cup should be tie-breaker and right time to put the series on pause. Say, for five years.

Favored by two touchdowns next week and picked to win the Big East this season, Louisville no longer needs the team in Lexington to get a teevee date.

Cardinal Football has gotten its brand to a level where flirtation with the Big 12 is not a joke.

Kentucky? Start with 2,060 reasons to put the UofL series on the shelf. That's the number of tickets Wildcat fans did not buy for the Governor's Cup game next week.

Stark reality: UK fans have taken a powder for Week One in 2012, abandoned their team for its season opener. For Big Blue Nation it's Labor Day weekend, backyard party and ESPN.

Unless Joker Phillips' underdog team stuns UofL, or makes an impressive show at Papa John's Cardinal Stadium September 2, the home opener six nights with Kent State (5-7 last year), won't be a sell-out either.

From there, if we start to hear echoes cascade across empty seats at Commonwealth Stadium, then (nice man) Joker Phillips will start to hear drumbeat and groans in the distance.

We all know too well the rest of this medley.

MIRACLE AT WEST LIBERTY?

Story of the year in Kentucky, 2012? I have a nominee.

Rebuild has been a watch word around West Liberty in Morgan County, since March 4, when a tornado ravaged downtown. Last week a new sparkle of sunlight burst out following the whirl of helicopter blades. It became an occasion to stir the soul, restore optimism and faith in our fellows.

University of Kentucky basketball coach John Calipari flew into the town of 4,000-plus and sparked a fund-raiser. At the coach's urging donations began to roll in, thousands of dollars. Rebuild a town, rejuvenate county and help a region rebound from its March catastrophe.

Calipari challenged Kentuckians to donate, they did and he matched every dollar. In November at Rupp Arena, a basketball game at Rupp Arena will feature feature former Wildcats with proceeds going to rebuild West Liberty.

What can be said about Calipari's philanthropy? For all the right reasons its the right thing for celebrities to do. We can be sure, can't we, Ashley Judd will arrive in Morgan County soon? With her checkbook open of course.

"America! I love this place."

CAN'T FIX STUPID DEPT.

Hollywood icon John Wayne said once: "Life's hard. It's even harder when you're stupid."

An apt description for an item on the internet last week. About UK freshman-to-be Nerlens Noel, a web-site kid declared, "UK big man is the most overrated prospect in 2012.

"... his lack of strength, offensive skills and feel for the game will likely prevent Noel from being the player most expect him to be. Averages of eight points, seven rebounds and three blocks per game would be a reasonable expectation as a freshman. Those numbers are not bad. Unfortunately, expectations for Noel are so high that many will consider that kind of season to be a major disappointment and will likely apply the bust tag if Kentucky fails to reach the lofty expectations set for them."

THE MAN UK FANS FORGOT

The coach (too) many Big Blue Nation fans still try to forget, Dr. Orlando 'Tubby' Smith. He received a contract extension from Minnesota recently.

What a career for Tubby. In 21 seasons (Tulsa, Georgia, Kentucky and Minnesota), his teams gave fans 20-plus win season 18 times, all 10 at Kentucky.

At UK, 263-83 (76 per cent), three wins in every four games, an NCAA title.

And this statistic: In the pantheon of basketball coaches at Kentucky only one was never connected to an NCAA rules violations and/or probation.

Quite a legacy for Dr. Tubby Smith.

And so it goes.

CRP Participants May Request Authorization to Conduct
Emergency Haying or Grazing of CRP Acres

The USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) announces the opportunity for Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) participants to request authorization to conduct emergency haying or grazing on specific CRP acres. Eligible producers who are interested in applying for approval to conduct Emergency Haying or Grazing of CRP land located in Kentucky must request and obtain individual written approval from FSA before any haying or grazing starts. Participants will be assessed a 10 percent payment reduction on their annual rental payment for the acres actually hayed or grazed.

Interested CRP participants are required to submit a request to FSA and obtain a modified conservation plan to hay and/or graze under emergency provisions. The same acres may not be hayed and grazed under the same emergency designation. Emergency haying or grazing is not allowed within 120 feet of any stream or water body. Specified portions of each field or contiguous fields must be left or grazed with limited stock for wildlife purposes.

Emergency haying or grazing is restricted to specific practices that are 12 months past being determined as fully established by the agency. Participants shall not start any haying or grazing activity until individual written approval is received for the CRP contract request. Approved haying authorization will end not later than August 31st. Approved grazing authorization will end not later than September 30th.

To take advantage of the emergency haying and grazing provisions, approved participants can use the CRP acreage for their own livestock or may grant another livestock producer use of the CRP acreage for the purpose of haying or grazing. For more information and to request approval for emergency haying or grazing of CRP acres, contact the local FSA Service Center that administers the CRP contract.

Opportunity for Continuous CRP Enrollment of Highly Erodible Cropland

The USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) announced that continuous sign-up for the Highly Erodible Land (HEL) Initiative under the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) started on July 23, 2012. Kentucky received a total allocation of 39,400 acres to enroll in the HELI CRP program. Offers will be accepted until either the state acreage allocation limit is reached or September 30, 2012 whichever occurs first.

This initiative will accept offers with an erosion rate of at least 20 tons per acre per year for new cropland or CRP acres that expire on September 30, 2012; however, existing grass stands that are not considered expiring CRP will not be considered eligible for enrollment. Eligible cropland must also have a history of being cropped 4 out of 6 years, 2002 through 2007.

Eligible CRP contracts set to expire on September 30, 2012, may be offered for consideration and approved contracts will become effective October 1, 2012. The contract duration is also 10 years.

For more information, please contact your local FSA Office or visit <http://www.fsa.usda.gov/crp>.

BCN & RC gets top rating from federal regulators

Bracken County Nursing & Rehabilitation Center is proud to announce that it has received a five-star quality rating, the highest overall score, from the federal Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS).

Bracken County Nursing & Rehab is a 32-bed nursing community located at 5269 Asbury Road, in Augusta, Ky. It is one of 72 nursing facilities operated by Louisville, Ky.-based Signature HealthCARE LLC.

Under the five-star rating system, nursing homes are assessed in three main categories: health inspections, quality measures and staffing. The overall rating combines scores received in each of the three categories.

The system is intended to help consumers, families and caregivers compare nursing homes more easily and identify areas about which they would like to learn more. The building received especially high marks based on residents' health, physical functioning, mental status and general well being.

"We are extremely excited about being the only 5-Star rated facility in the Buffalo Trace Region. We have an exceptional staff dedicated to providing the highest quality care to both short-term rehabilitation and long-term residents," stated facility interim administrator, Brad Wyatt.

For more information about Bracken County Nursing & Rehab Center, call (606) 756-2156 or visit www.brackencountynursing.com.

Signature HealthCARE is a leading provider of long term care services in the Eastern and Southeastern United States, operating 72 communities in seven states with more than 12,000 employees. Signature's organizational culture is founded on three pillars: intra-preneurship, learning and spirituality. For more information, visit us at www.ltcrevolution.com.

Bracken beats Betsy Lane 26-6

Last Saturday was the official beginning of the Bracken County High School Football season and I couldn't think of a better way to kick it off. Betsy Lane won the coin toss but they weren't able to hold on to the ball for very long. Their second play was intercepted by Jacob Tucker who took it in for a touchdown and the momentum didn't stop there.

Before the last buzzer sounded, Andrew White and Jacob Houston also racked up 2 more interceptions a piece. Logan Houston threw a touchdown pass to Jacob Houston, and Conner Rigg and Dallas Honan each rushed for touchdowns of their own. Our defense was hitting so hard that at one point Andrew White completely knocked the helmet off of an opposing player. They were just unstoppable. GO BEARS!!!

Bracken 4-H Trap Shooters attended the 4-H invitational shoot on Sat. August 18th at Rowan County Sportsman Club. The invitational shoot consisted of several trap shooters from various counties. Bracken County had thirteen youth that attended the shoot. The hard work of learning gun safety and some practice made shooting successful. Congratulations to the thirteen winners that represented Bracken County.

The next shooting sports competition is the KY State 4-H Shoot at Berea, KY in September. The next three Tuesday evenings, youth will be practicing up for the two day event.

Without the support of the community, this program could not be possible. Bracken Co. 4-H Shooting Sports appreciations all the individuals and businesses that have supported the program. Winning team pictures can be seen on page 9.
